JEFF DAVIS AND HIS SITUATION.—The following statements are from Fortress Monroe correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer dated May [illegible]:

Yesterday morning Davis complained of being sick and expressed a wish to see a physician [illegible] officer of the day, after consulting the proper authorities, told his prisoner that a doctor would [illegible] well him. What physicians have you here, asked Jeff of Captain [illegible] Tellow the officer of the day [illegible] yesterday. Captain [illegible] the names of Doctors Bancroft [illegible] and Craven.

Where is Dr Bancroft from? queried Jeff. Connecticut, answered the Captain. [illegible] Where's Janeway from? [illegible] Craven's from? [illegible] You, he is from New Jersey. Let me [illegible] him then. In justice to Dr Craven we [illegible] to say that notwithstanding the [illegible] of the chief of traitors, the physician is and ever has been an [illegible] Union man dyed in the wool. The Doctor found nothing seriously wrong with Jeff's physical condition. The real reason of Davis' desire for a physician became apparent when his [illegible] meal was served to him. The murderer of our prisoners is fed on the regular army rations precisely of the same quantity and quality as is served out to our soldiers in garrison. Jeff had [illegible] partaking of this food with any apparent [illegible]. At noon yesterday, he threw his soup, bread and meat from him, exclaiming in a loud and angry voice "that he was not accustomed to such living and would not put up with it."

The officer and the guards on duty within the cell looked on in quiet surprise. Davis became yet more irate and strode up and down his cell exclaiming that he was "to be murdered." At one time he endeavored to deprive one of the guard of his gun. Failing in this he tore open his vest and shirt, bared his breast, and asked to be shot. This melo-dramatic request was not complied with. On the contrary, the officer of the day and General Miles were apprised of the violent conduct of the prisoner, and irons were ordered to be placed upon his ankles. It will be seen by this that the ironing was perfectly justifiable in every point of view. When the officers were about to put the gyves upon him he became more violent than before and resisted with all his power the adjustment of the manacles. He was gently and firmly held, and the shackles fastened. He violently berated the officer while performing this unpleasant duty. He was allowed to scold on uninterruptedly. Since his incarceration he has conducted himself in a haughty and supercilious manner till yesterday, when he became outrageously violent. He is calmer today. Dr Craven has again visited him and reports his health as good. No papers are allowed to be taken to his cell. While on the Clyde he managed to gain possession of an Inquirer containing the proclamation of President Johnson setting a price upon his head, after reading which he remarked that the United States Government would never dare to hang him. Time will tell.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—Referring to the Pacific Railroad and the progress made on the eastern section of the line, the Central City, Colorado, Register says:

That the road when completed will pay there is no doubt. To show the quantity of shipping which the trade to the Territories will give to the Pacific Railroad from St. Louis to Kansas City, the St. Louis Democrat says that the "returns of the amount of freight forwarded from Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchison, Nebraska City, St Josephs and Omaha was 36,076,140 pounds in 1860, and the number of wagons was nearly 7,000, and that this record for 1860 may be trebled for 1865, as last year's emigration across the Plains was the largest ever known, and the prospect is that a still heavier rush will be made next season."

Taking this statement as true, for 1864, our freights amounted to 144,296,496 pounds. The average cost of transportation has, during the last year, been about 20 cents per pound, and when losses are reckoned we presume it would be even larger. At 20 cents the gross amount would be $28,859,299 20, or, in round numbers, nearly $30,000,000. Of course, with the railroad built, freight would be less, but the increase in quantity would more than make up for depreciation in price. This sum would more than build and stock the railroad from the base of the mountains to the Missouri river, as it amounts to over $48,000 per mile, and over a level country like the Plains it cannot cost more than the sum named, the principal cost of construction being the ties and rails, scarcely any grade being required. Once completed to Denver, the entire New Mexican and Utah trades would come over the route, much of which now comes from other points than those named on the Missouri river. Idaho Territory will also seek her wares in this market. All these would conspire to increase the business of the road. Again the facilities for travel would induce to the country both capital and emigration, and these, in turn would increase the quantity of freights. It is perfectly safe to calculate that the business of the road would double during the first year. As soon as a hundred miles of any one of the eastern branches shall have been completed, its western terminus will at once form the eastern terminus for ox, mule and horse freighting, and the road will thus be made to pay proportionate returns. The local business for the branches east of the one hundredth meridian will make up for its being divided between so great a number.

UNSUCCESSFUL.—The steamer Col. Wright returned on Sunday morning, and we have to report the effort made to place her on the Upper Snake river, as fruitless. The Wright succeeded in reaching a point calculated to be eighty miles above Lewiston and thirty miles further up Snake river than ever before navigated by steamer. The stream is represented as being narrow, many places not affording room for the boat to turn in, very crooked and presents above the mouth of Salmon river an almost constant succession of whirling eddies, riffles and impeded by huge boulders, running through canyons, whose sides, almost perpendicular, rise hundreds of feet, making it impassable for navigation. A party from the boat ascended the mountain at the point reached and from there had a fair view of the stream for a long distance and report it as being still more impracticable for navigation. It was thought from what information could be gained from miners who were at work on the river and from Indians that they were within thirty miles of the mouth of Burnt river, the desired point to be gained. The boat furnishes evidence of hard work and rough usage, her bow for twenty five feet being carried away, is patched up and a bulk head had to be built and filled in to keep her afloat. The effort to reach the desired spot, was not given up until it was found impossible to proceed, and at one point four hours and a half were spent in making twice the length of the boat. No accident, other than the loss of her bow, happened, and all who went up returned thoroughly satisfied that the only way to place a steamer on the upper Snake river is to build it on the spot. We do not think the project is abandoned, and now that it is found impracticable to run a boat [illegible] for the commencement of navigation, we shall soon see the machinery going [illegible] and the river navigated this season [illegible] steamboats.—Advertiser, July 4th.

A CONSOLATION.—The Philadelphia Ledger suggests as a speedy means of reconstruction that the rebels turn their attention to honest employment. The Southern people need all the crops that can be raised. Industriously employed they will have no time to brood over their defeats [illegible] and will again realize [illegible] industry to individual prosperity [illegible] of the State. This is the way [illegible] Government the best assurance that they [illegible] down into good peaceable [illegible] all the [illegible] asks them to do.

MRS. PARTINGTON'S LAST.—Isaac was reading [illegible] the telegraph [illegible] when he came to "Jeff Davis [illegible] Lafayette [illegible]" [illegible] I knew [illegible] but I didn't think [illegible] him. Well [illegible] The old lady [illegible] Isaac his reading.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1865

Our Relations with San Francisco

[illegible] days ago we published an article in which it was attempted to be shown that the [illegible] which San Francisco has of the trade of the interior of this State and [illegible] was resulting [illegible] to the business and general prosperity of every place over which the great commercial [illegible] holds a supreme control. It is not [illegible] San Francisco has grown to be a great city having no rival on the Pacific, that we thus plead against the course her capitalists are pursuing. It is not in the hope or desire that any other city shall be brought into prominence to the detriment of that great center of trade that we thus undertake to expose the present system which is so ruinous to us. Our purpose is rather to advocate the necessity of placing our inter-State trade on such a footing that while it may be to the advantage of others to deal with us, it shall not be so very injurious to us as the present course of traffic is proving to be.

The Alta a few days ago adverted sharply to the article to which we just now alluded and in the endeavor to rebut what we then said, essayed to show that the all controlling monopoly of San Francisco is doing the country no hurt, but that on the contrary, it is positively beneficial to the interests of all places over which it dominates. We have many times pointed out the evils which result to Oregon by reason of our business being in other hands instead of our own. Situated as we are at present we are entirely at the mercy of those who may choose to combine for the purpose of making all the money they can out of our necessities by causing us to pay for goods and transportation whatever prices the monopolists may see fit to impose. That their gains are not small is evidenced by the fact that they who have power to extort money, are never known to be troubled by the voice of conscience, and further by the palpable proof that the "balance of trade" is against us and all other places on this coast, except San Francisco, as is shown by the contrast between the prosperity of that city and the debility in business which prevails elsewhere in California and Oregon.

From the Alta's reasoning, the inference is very apparent that that paper supposes the merchants and capitalists of San Francisco to be laboring with a self sacrificing zeal for the benefit of others rather than of themselves. When it is said that "every clime and country is ransacked by the merchants of San Francisco to discover articles that may minister to the wants and wishes of those who produce the internal wealth of the coast and that they vie with each other in furnishing these articles on the cheapest possible terms," we cannot choose but admire their indifference to their own interests, and praise the extreme disinterestedness of those who so benevolently care for us, all the while forgetful of their own gains. The poetry of this is however, all spoiled by the actual knowledge on our part that their practices do not quite conform to their professed business creed and that all their talk about the cheapest possible terms, are but the merest pretence.

Again, it is said that at San Francisco the merchants are combined "to gather and sell goods at the lowest possible prices." To do a work of this kind, is not the object of combination. Its purpose is the direct reverse of this. It seeks to make money by getting the control of every department of business, and thus to be enabled both to buy and to sell at what prices it may suit the speculators to give and receive. The strange anomalies which the produce market of San Francisco presents, can be accounted for on no other hypothesis than that a combination exists which manipulates prices to suit the monopolists. Witness the change in the flour and grain market, which occurred within a very few days. Nothing in the regular course of trade could have produced it. It was the result, not of the bringing into the market an unusual quantity of grain, but of an arrangement whereby the heavy dealers should be enabled to engross the whole trade in those commodities.

In dealing with this subject, what we most desire to show is the necessity that is upon us of doing something in defence of our own business interests. To make our situation still more deplorable than it would otherwise be, we have to submit to a monopoly in our carrying trade. We are doing nothing for ourselves at home, but are constantly on the alert to discover some method by which we may expend money abroad. Before Oregon engages in an enterprise, it seems to be necessary to have it understood that it must be conducted in some remote field. If there is a chance to invest a dollar away from home, we hurry away to do it. By this process we wholly ignore our true interests, and as a consequence our wealth increases but slowly. Oregon must do something upon her own account and she cannot better begin than by gaining a clear comprehension of her relations with San Francisco, and by proceeding to apply the remedy.

SHERMAN AND STANTON.—The eminent services of General Sherman cause all persons to look forgivingly upon conduct in him, which if witnessed in another would call forth the severest censure. It has been repeatedly shown that Sherman's agreement with Johnston was wholly inadmissible, but it has never been supposed by any save the most reckless of those who have maligned him, that his action was anything more than the result of a great mistake. In using his influence to cause the terms agreed upon between Johnston and Sherman to be disapproved, and in making efforts to repair the evil consequences of what all consider a blunder, Stanton has incurred the displeasure of Sherman to such an extent that the latter has declared that there can be no further correspondence between them. By this petulance Sherman injures himself more than he can the Secretary. Both these distinguished men have been of great service to their country and it is a matter of regret that there should be any misunderstanding between them. Sherman offered a studied insult to Mr Stanton on the day of the great military review at Washington. The eastern papers all speak of the act in terms disparaging to Sherman. The hero of the Carolinas has done too much for his country to permit him to fall into popular disfavor but his present course is calculated to do him an injury from which all would be glad to see him preserved.

FAVORS NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—The New York World, probably the most influential and widely circulated "Democratic" journal in the country favors the idea of giving the ballot to the negro. The Day Book assails the World for its recusancy to the slave holders' faith, but the latter retorts with the facts of history to show that the old Democratic party for many years sustained the doctrine of negro suffrage, and that it made no opposition to it until quite a recent period. The party [illegible] negro votes the moment it became necessary to do so in order to gain political strength in the South and please the slave lords who have, however, of late years, been considered the only orthodox leaders of the party. If there were now a chance for the party which boasts of its adherence to the great idea of a "White man's Government" to acquire political supremacy by pronouncing for the enfranchisement of the black man there is nothing in its past history or the present fixity of its principles to prevent it from now proclaiming its recantation and advocating the right of suffrage without distinction of color.

Boise and Owyhee

FROM [illegible] SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

QUARTZ [illegible]

[illegible] June 24 1865

I have been visiting [illegible] of the most prominent ledges in this vicinity during several days past and have been agreeably surprised to see a great amount of work being done. Some mills are running with fair success, and others are in process of [illegible] to arrive. One mile and a half south east [illegible] is the Fourth of July [illegible] known [illegible] silver and gold [illegible] assays [illegible] $1000 silver and $87 gold [illegible] It's evidently rich [illegible] a piece in a large [illegible] all [illegible] hand [illegible] with a few particles [illegible] in sight. This was rather a surprise [illegible] silver ledges of such value [illegible] The owners of this ledge have [illegible] to a considerable extent [illegible] and sent [illegible] New York to be [illegible] and I learn that it has been [illegible] about $100 per foot. This ledge is not of great width but crops out as [illegible] It is the prince of ledges in Owyhee, and I may yet [illegible] Quite an excitement exists here about the Sherman gold and silver ledge which was discovered last fall by some prospectors but never recorded until last Saturday. It is [illegible] over some huge mountains in the region of fir timber the altitude being too high [illegible] This ledge crosses [illegible] richest croppings of Owyhee is clearly defined and [illegible] to my certain knowledge for I visited it the [illegible] day with a party who were going there and I saw and judged of it for myself. I [illegible] with the discoverer and two others the first besides himself over it. I shall visit it again when it has been properly developed. [illegible] excursions very healthful and invigorating and I never like to say anything [illegible] actual observation. The same gentleman who [illegible] rock very rich in silver which he assured me was from a ledge not yet located and recorded found by friends of his. Many miners are very secretive, and explore much more than they tell of. I am satisfied rather against my expectations that there are rich silver ledges in the basin. I have not seen the ledge yet, but the Ethan Allen is said to be also very rich in silver and gold.

A FEW GOLD LEDGES

Yesterday I had a delightful ride over the pleasantest of open timbered hills, shaded by pines that would excite the envy of a Maine lumberman, and carpeted with buffalo grass that would tempt the appetite of an epicurean cayuse, at least it did of the one I rode. I had Charley Vajen for company, well known in the Basin as an old resident, and who has of late a strong development of quartz upon the brain. We visited the Gambrinus mill and ledge which was at one time in high repute. I learn from Mr Coombs of the mill company that 2,700 tons of rock have been crushed at a yield of over $30,000 about $11 per ton. The lode is not wide and the ledge he says he considers valuable as ever. The ledge company and mill company disagree and all things are at a stand still. About a mile below the Gambrinus is the Landon ledge and mill, the latter has only made a short run, which Mr Mitchell, the Superintendent, assures me was very satisfactory. The stock is mostly owned in San Francisco, where Mr Mitchell himself resides. He makes very reasonable calculations [illegible] seems to be prudent says $25 will pay per ton and that the rock promises to go from that to $50. I should judge Mr M to be a good practical manager. We partook of his hospitality and were shown the mill and went down the shaft sixty-five feet deep, where I saw an excellent defined ledge that appeared [illegible] age three feet in depth of pay rock. The Landon promises to be a valuable mine. The rock is free from base metal, crushes easily and looks well.

Quite near the Landon and strongly suspected of being a family connection is the Illinois ledge, where a great deal of work is being done. Mr R. C. Coombs is principal owner. A tunnel is running in quite a distance on the ledge and two shafts are being sunk on the hill above it. The ledge is seven feet wide at the narrowest, and fully twelve feet in the tunnel. Some two hundred tons of quartz was run out of it and it looked well. I could find gold prominently visible in almost any piece I took in my hand. Mr Coombs has a twenty stamp mill near here which will probably be placed on the Illinois ledge. I am free to say that the Illinois is to all appearances a splendid ledge in size and richness should it hold out it will be an immense fortune to its owners. Two days since ground adjoining the discovery sold for only one dollar per foot. In the cursory view I have taken of these ledges and many others that are less prospected I have formed an opinion that the basin furnishes a good field for enterprise and capital to work. Hundreds of ledges are discovered and many are tested considerably.

THE CHICO ROUTE

Mr Mitchell of the Landon mill arrived here about a month since by the Chico route. He was induced to come that way to save time and was over a month in coming from San Francisco. He said they traveled 23 days on the road from Chico here and he makes the distance 453 miles though they came considerably farther as they did not find the shortest trail. They were horribly imposed upon. The distance given was 200 miles less than they found it [illegible] With jennies were saddled for them and every man nearly was [illegible] Six animals died or gave out within two days and the company had to wait for others to be sent for. Three hundred miles was a desert [illegible] sage brush almost destitute of grass and water then in the early spring and over 200 miles was over the most bleak mountains, burnt and destitute of timber, where a wagon cannot be got at all. It cost him more besides lost time, than it would to have come by steamer. He finally would have ended his journey on foot only that a train from Red Bluff came along with fresh animals and he left them leaving his comrades to curse Capt Pierce behind at their leisure. He says the Red Bluff road is similar but they give a man a good horse and good treatment, and do not lie about the distance.

Another young intelligent gentleman named Greenough came through in an after train, and is even more down on the road and Capt. Pierce who invented the route. His account is really laughable, though the serious part comes in too frequently as they were 45 days on the way and went one time for three days hungry, after being promised [illegible] the way. He gave me an accurate table of each day's ride which he figured up [illegible] miles from Chico here. Some of them were about to leave by steamer for Portland, but were persuaded to turn back to Chico. They were out of pocket $150 each, and suffered hardships innumerable cooked their own grub and herded their own horses, making much of the trip on foot. Capt Pierce was to meet them with fresh horses but never came they were horribly outraged and finally, when they were drawing near to the end of their journey they heard that Capt Pierce whom they had come to consider a phantom was camped near them and they went to see him, some of them buckling on their revolvers swearing to kill him and save others from suffering as they had. The [illegible] gentleman [illegible] talked until midnight to them, and made such a pitiful story of his life and trials that they were disarmed and forgot all about their revenge. Capt Pierce explained to them that he was the great original discoverer of these northern mines and that all the O. S. N. Co had ever given him was a free pass on the Columbia river when he had made them rich. Now he was working for revenge and had sworn in his wrath to invent a new road to all his mines and ruin them in spite of thunder. So I think Mr. Greenough's experience was laughable [illegible] with all the population of Chico setting on a corral fence to see them mount, and [illegible] with the redoubtable Capt Pierce. I think the O. S. N. Co. may as well [illegible] the old discoverer or else commence balancing their earthly accounts. Mr Greenough authorizes the use of his name as also does Mr Mitchell and he promises to furnish a copy of [illegible] twenty two [illegible] San Francisco for publication. The southern route to Idaho will certainly be from Humboldt. The people of Oregon only have to develope enterprise and liberal energy to secure to themselves a full proportion of trade and travel.

RELICS.—The rage for relics in this country is something astonishing. A very respectably dressed man was noticed the other day putting in his pocket a brick from the wall in front of Mr Lincoln's house [illegible] Ellsworth was killed in Alexandria has been cut into chips and carried away. The tree at the foot of which Sickles shot Key, in Washington has been [illegible] The oak tree under which Grant struck with Pemberton and arranged the terms of the surrender of Vicksburg has been annihilated and recently a party dug in the ground ten feet for the roots of the historic oak. An elm tree which Abraham Lincoln planted stands in front of his old house in Springfield. Of course it will be torn to pieces and destroyed. [illegible]

[illegible] OF THE CONVICTS TO ESCAPE.—The many schemes [illegible] by the convicts at the Penitentiary in this city [illegible] their escape [illegible] in times wonderful [illegible] and liberty is sweet and the incarcerated [illegible] the laws of the [illegible] as keenly the [illegible] of liberty as ever did serf in bondage. We give an [illegible] not many weeks since of an attempt [illegible] of the Institution [illegible] which [illegible] the most remarkable and was only prevented from being successful [illegible] the unfiring watchfulness of the Warden. [illegible] upon several occasions peculiar expedients [illegible] to frustrate the designs of different [illegible] them from getting away. [illegible] at large and the attention [illegible] prominently [illegible] has been [illegible] improvised [illegible] Liberty, when he should [illegible] the gang but his [illegible] by the Warden [illegible] he doubtless intended to make this ball [illegible] was discovered, and he [illegible] plans defeated. Even of the [illegible] of his person and subject [illegible] the hands of the officers [illegible] fully known just how [illegible] needed to be [illegible] remarkable [illegible] of the Warden [illegible] others it would be impossible to keep the [illegible] in subjection. The last attempt [illegible] was that of excavating under the walls of the building from a cell in which a plank had been [illegible] of mining came to an end on Tuesday last [illegible] the hope from having any celebration [illegible] that two of the convicts [illegible] Nunley of Yamhill county [illegible] to make a general stampede upon the first [illegible] opportunity after the way was [illegible] call of the convicts named was removed [illegible] would descend under the floor [illegible] away which was deposited [illegible] Mr. Gardner [illegible] for a few weeks that something was going wrong [illegible] and so contented [illegible] the industrious fellows [illegible] work, that it was not until Monday last, while the [illegible] were out at work in the woods that their place [illegible] the mine was discovered. The plank in the cell [illegible] successfully removed and replaced [illegible] so very natural that the [illegible] mysterious just at the time when it became necessary [illegible] the escape of [illegible] floor yesterday [illegible] escape if we had been the person to prevent [illegible] discovering the place of exit and think it would [illegible] puzzled many other heads. The floor was [illegible] Gardner as he had found it and in the [illegible] Nunley up and asked him how far they had gone on [illegible] being matters to him. The convict was [illegible] taken aback and after finding that their plan [illegible] known, made confession of the whole [illegible] was then inspected and it was found that [illegible] dug a trench some fifteen feet from the cell [illegible] wall, and had commenced sinking [illegible] the foundation. The excavation was a regular [illegible] enough for a man to work in handily and the [illegible] work had been done with a broken [illegible] a wheel [illegible] rod of half inch iron about eight inches long [illegible] piece of hoop iron, about two inches wide [illegible] long. From the confession of Nunley it appears that the undertaking was commenced nearly three [illegible] ago. The officers of the Penitentiary have here [illegible] stood that the ground under the prison floors [illegible] cement, but it proved to be loose gravel, easily [illegible]. White, who escaped from the gang [illegible] west of the city a few days since, has not been [illegible].

IMPROVEMENTS.—We desire to see Portland [illegible] in its [illegible] appearance, but there seems to be [illegible] of it—little chance for improvement of the [illegible] unless the owners of property in the city [illegible] completely to the wall by the most stringent [illegible] pinned down to the work. Look at Front [illegible] condition has been shameful for years and [illegible] ago there has been no prospect of its being [illegible] better. Years have elapsed with no improve[illegible] when every [illegible] could be done until [illegible] by law the work has been inaugurated. But [illegible] its opposition, and then will contend that [illegible] to drive on these marks of progression [illegible] Third and Fourth streets have all been defined [illegible] by grading and laying down side-walks [illegible] badly needed on those streets, yet it is [illegible] that a lot of block has been [illegible] in accordance with the ordinance passed by [illegible] for such work. It is [illegible] here and there, [illegible] much better than no side-walk, and this [illegible] is owing to a lack of enterprise and public [illegible] in every case whereas a lot is not improved [illegible] the Council have objections to property [illegible] their own improvement. That is a narrow [illegible] and selfish notion. The Council [illegible] that every [illegible] do their own work, but if they fail to do so then [illegible] proposes to do it for them and make the [illegible] pay the charges. There is not a resident on [illegible] Third, Fourth, or other streets where improve[illegible] have been ordered, but who has ample time to do [illegible] before the Council enforce the ordinance, and it [illegible] certainly seem more sensible and correct for them [illegible] advantage of such opportunities.

[illegible] OF THE DAY.—Our columns are so crowded [illegible] that we were under the necessity of omitting [illegible] general items [illegible] the celebration of the [illegible] The one feature particularly interesting was that [illegible] reunion of the Vancouver Hibernian and [illegible] Hibernian Benevolent Societies, and the Fenian [illegible] of this city. These societies are organize[illegible] the promoting of good fellowship, [illegible] among [illegible] of Ireland, and descendants of [illegible] in our [illegible] After the labors of the day in the [illegible] march, [illegible] of the [illegible] residents in this city met [illegible] from Vancouver at the New Columbian, [illegible] cheer prevailed to some extent in discussing [illegible] prepared by Mr. Bissett, and toasts went [illegible] heard freely eliciting the doome and patriotic [illegible] The Fenian Brotherhood being an organiza[illegible] forward to the [illegible] of Ireland, its [illegible] on this memorable anniversary in American [illegible] with a double zeal their duties to the green Isl[illegible] poetic and patriotic [illegible] entered upon the [illegible] of the hope that they entertained for the deliv[illegible] the mother country. The Brotherhood lost [illegible] this occasion as a civic body, but it would [illegible] be the last time they come out as a soldiery—with [illegible] to their shoulders and were thus preparing for [illegible] which is approaching for them to render aid and [illegible] in down-trodden Ireland. The assembly ad[illegible] the [illegible] to the rooms of the Broth[illegible] Oak street, and entered [illegible] visitors in [illegible] of the city, until the departure of the boat [illegible].

[illegible].—The Fourth is over and farmers and [illegible] of the towns are in the best possible humor for [illegible] the [illegible] work of harvest throughout [illegible] Wheat and grain of all kinds will be ready [illegible] by next week and harvesting will go on [illegible] until the work is completed. The [illegible] of harvesting machinery have gone to [illegible] this year that we have ever noticed in Oregon [illegible] we hear of farmers having combined [illegible] to assist each other in getting the requisite [illegible] to secure their crops, and in other places farm[illegible] grain fields are extensive, have expended con[illegible] in getting the best reapers and mowers to har[illegible] There is every prospect for an abundant [illegible] We have heard of but few complaints about [illegible] crops this year, and the fall will witness more [illegible] of everything by considerable than has ever [illegible] one year before fell by the [illegible] in this State.

[illegible].—A strange couple appeared in the [illegible] of our city on Wednesday night at a late hour [illegible] horse and dusty buggy and finding no other [illegible] only person awake, sought a hotel for them [illegible] a stable for their animal. They were supplied, [illegible] to rest for a further prosecution of their hur[illegible] flight by the steamer Julia [illegible] Green, were made one by the [illegible] and returned to their hotel in the afternoon for the [illegible] Trump. A. H. STEPHENS.—The rebel Vice President has many backers among the newspaper press of the North, who are trying to soften the popular verdict against their admired favorite. Without taking into consideration the record of the crimes which prove him to be a traitor equal in guilt to any, a mere recollection of his former insolence, the contemptuous disdain with which he treated his opponents in Congress and the deliberate insults of the whole Northern people while the slavery question was in the arena of political discussion will withdraw from him all sympathy and respect among men of honorable and manly sentiments. Here is the language which this insulting minion of the slave power used toward the North ten or twelve years ago, when the Nebraska Bill revived that fierce discussion which is now settled:

"Well gentlemen you make a great deal of clamor on the Nebraska measure, but it don't alarm us at all. We have got used to that kind of talk. You have threatened before but never performed. You have always cravened, and you will again. You are a mouthing, white livered set. Of course you will oppose; we expect that; but we don't care for your opposition. You may rail, but we don't care for your railing. You will hiss, but we will adder. We expect it. Adders and we expect it of you. You are like the novel that were pitched over the battlements of Heaven into hell. They set up a howl of discomfiture and so will you. But their fate was sealed and so is yours. You must submit to the yoke, but don't chafe. Gentlemen, we have got you in our power. You tried to drive us to the wall in 1850, but times are changed. * * * You went a woolling and have gone home fleeced. Don't be so impudent as to complain. You will only be slapped in the face. Don't resist. You will only be [illegible] into obedience."

LYMAN BEECHER AT COLLEGE.—Good Father Beecher had dreadful fits of "hypo" when the college bills were to be paid. He could not stand it, he told his wife, the fifth, for he had been married, re-widowed and again re-wedded, since the loss of his third and best beloved wife, he must take Lyman out of college. The good woman would not hear to this. She had some property in her own right, and that should go to pay her stepson's bills. Lyman knew well that his father was fairly well to do in the world, and tried to soothe him. "Don't be concerned," he said, "you have enough to live on at present, and when I get through and have a home I'll take care of you." "Poor fellow," grumbled the dyspeptic old man, "you'll scratch a poor man's head all your lifetime." The dismal prophecy turned out to be not far from true, though the young man managed to help himself that year. Six weeks before the commencement the college butler gave up his post. By the old Yale laws written in Latin, which Cicero would need a glossary to understand, "The butler is licensed to sell in the buttery cider, metheglin, strong beer (not more than twelve casks [cados] a year) loaf sugar, pipes, tobacco and such like things necessary for students not on sale in the commons." Young Beecher borrowed three hundred dollars, bought out the stock of Staples, the retiring butler, and started what we may call a college grocery. The number of cadi which he might sell was strictly limited by college law, but the size of a cadus was not defined. The new butler interpreted it liberally. To replenish the stock left by his predecessor, he "sent to New York by an English parson (a judge of the article) and bought a hogshead of porter," from which we infer that a cadus by Yale measurement, meant a hogshead. Young Beecher having pronounced his Presentation Valedictory, went into his grocery enterprise with a will. In six weeks he made enough to pay the borrowed investment, clear commencement expenses, a hundred dollars in hand, besides another hundred dollars in bad debts for accounts [illegible] furnished "on tick" to students whose needs in the way of beer and cider, pipes and tobacco, were in advance of their pecuniary resources. "If I had gone into business then," said the good man sixty years later, "I should have made money." Possibly he might, but this is the first and last instance during his long life in which he showed any aptitude in that direction.

PUNISHMENT OF JEFF DAVIS.—The last suggestion in regard to the punishment of Jefferson Davis is that he should be imprisoned for life and be kept at work, as a common malefactor, upon a monument to perpetuate the honors and the memory of Abraham Lincoln, recording the fact that his chief glory was the suppression of the treason headed by Jefferson Davis—that monument to be surmounted by a statue of Lincoln; and that he should labor till God saw fit to call him hence—living a protest against his own action, laboring to make treason infamous, and dying the death of a criminal.

HOPE TOLD A FLATTERING TALE.—But never even anticipated so divine a preparation for the toilet as that delightful preparation, "Sozodont." So cool and refreshingly agreeable to the mouth and teeth, hardens and invigorates the gums, gives a pure and healthy tone to the breath, cleanses, beautifies and preserves the teeth and arrests decay.

Sold by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers everywhere. 75 cents per bottle.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It renovates, purifies and strengthens the system, and aids the stomach in the performance of its functions. It is a sovereign specific for imparting strength, vigor and tone to the system, and possessing the curative powers for all diseases arising from a disordered stomach. In the most severe cases of cramps, diarrhœa and weakness in the stomach the "Bitters" have been signally tested, and always with the greatest success.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. ap12

The Cruel War is Over

[illegible] cruel war is over
A [illegible] as the hour
When [illegible]
Went d[illegible] before our power
Our country [illegible] still unit[ed]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Once more we all are brothers
N[illegible]
Our Flag now waves in triumph
While Treason hangs her [head]
Thank God! It waves o'er Freemen
No day [illegible]
Its stars are now untarnished
By slavery's foul disgrace

No more [illegible] dark clouds of treason
[illegible] our Southern sky
Our Northern lights of glory
Have made each traitor fly
We are "marching on" united,
And palsied be the hand
That dares to raise the standard
Of Treason in our land

Trial of the Assassins—The Testimony—Infamous Conduct of Davis

We give from our late New York exchanges some further evidence in the trial of the conspirators:

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The proceedings in the conspirators' trial to-day were more interesting than [illegible]. The crowd was greater than ever before.

Among the witnesses were Major General John [illegible] of the rebel army, and a brother and daughter of Mrs. Surratt. Miss Surratt was dressed in deep mourning, like her mother, and was quite haughty and had an air of insulted dignity at first, but gradually softened beneath the Judge Advocate's cross-examination [illegible] going from the stand, she cried out with much feeling, startling every part of the room: "Where is she—where is my mother?" Mrs. Surratt kept her head down, and the daughter only caught a glimpse of her on passing out. She is a young lady of perhaps twenty and has a weary, anxious look. On entering and leaving the Court room she carefully kept her skirts from touching the Yankee officers.

The testimony for the defense, except in the case of Dr. Mudd, seems to be very weak.

The counsel for the accused expect to submit all their evidence this week, that the summing up on the part of the Government may commence next Monday.

EXAMINATION OF LEWIS F. BATES.

By Judge Advocate Holt—Where do you reside? A.—In Charlotte (N. C.)

Q.—How long have you resided there? A.—A little over four years.

Q.—In what business have you been engaged during the past year? A.—I have been engaged as Superintendent of the Southern Express Company for the State of North Carolina.

Q.—State whether or not you saw Jefferson Davis recently at Charlotte (N. C.), and under what circumstances? A.—He stopped at my house on the 19th of April last.

Q.—Did he make an address to the people on that occasion? A.—He did—on the steps of my house.

Q.—State whether or not in the course of that address, or toward the close, a telegram was received by him announcing the assassination of the President of the United States. A.—It was.

Q.—From whom? A.—From John C. Breckinridge.

Q.—Did he or did he not read that telegram to the crowd? A.—He did.

Q.—Look at that (exhibiting to witness a telegram) and see whether it is the same dispatch. A.—I should say that it was.

[The dispatch was then read as follows:]

GREENSBORO, April 19, 1865.—His Excellency President Davis: President Lincoln was assassinated in the theater, in Washington, on the night of the 14th instant. Seward's house was entered on the same night, and he was repeatedly stabbed, and, possibly, mortally wounded.

JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE.

Q.—State what Jefferson Davis said after reading this dispatch to the crowd, and endeavor to recollect his precise language. A.—Upon the conclusion of the speech to the people he read this dispatch aloud and made this remark: "If it were to be done, it were better that it were well done."

Q.—You are sure those are the words? A.—Those are the words.

Q.—State whether or not, in a day or two afterward, Jeff. Davis, John C. Breckinridge and others were present at your house in Charlotte. A.—They were.

Q.—And the assassination of the President was the subject of conversation? A.—A day or two afterward that was the subject of their conversation.

Q.—Can you remember what John C. Breckinridge said? A.—In speaking of the assassination of President Lincoln, he remarked to Davis that he regretted it very much, that it was unfortunate for the people of the South at that time. Davis replied, "Well, General, I don't know; if it were to be done at all, it were better it were well done, and if the same were done to Andy Johnson, the beast, and Secretary Stanton, the job would then be complete."

Q.—You feel confident that you recollect his words? A.—Those are the words used.

Q.—State whether or not the regret which John C. Breckinridge expressed at the assassination was because of its criminality, or simply because it was unfortunate for the people of the South at that time? A.—I drew that conclusion.

Q.—Was there any remark made as to the criminality of the act? A.—No, sir, he simply remarked that he regretted it as being unfortunate for the South.

Q.—Of what State are you a native? A.—Of Massachusetts.

TESTIMONY OF GENERAL JOHNSON.

[The rebel Major General Edward Johnson, was here called to the stand.]

General Howe—Before this witness is sworn, I wish to submit a motion to the Court. I will state the facts upon which I base the motion. It is well known to me, as it is to a great many officers in the army, that the person now on the stand, Edward Johnson, was educated at the National Military Academy at the Government expense, and that since that time, for years, he has held a commission in the army of the United States. It is well known in the army that it is a condition precedent to receiving a commission that an officer shall take an oath of allegiance and fidelity to the government. In 1861 it became my duty as an officer, to fire upon a small party of which this man was a member, that party fired upon, struck down and killed loyal men who were in the service of the Government, since that time it is notorious to all officers of the army that the man now introduced here as a witness, has openly borne arms against the United States except when he has been a prisoner in the hands of the government. I understand that it is proposed that he shall testify before this Court; he comes here as a witness with his hands red with the blood of his loyal countrymen, shot by him or his assistants, in violation of his solemn oath as a man and as an officer. I submit therefore to this Court whether he does not stand in the eye of the law as an incompetent witness. I regard the offering as a witness of a man standing in open violation of the obligation of an oath administered to him as an officer, as an insult to the Court and an outrage upon the administration of justice. I move that this man Edward Johnson be ejected from the Court as an incompetent witness.

General Aiken—I rise to second the motion. I am glad to [illegible] that this question has now been presented to the Court. I regard this man as at all incompetent as a witness. In my judgment of all the men in the country, for those who have been educated by the Government, nourished by the Government, protected by the Government, and who have then turned and fought, joined on [illegible] of the Government, to come into a Court of justice, and especially before a Military Commission such as that assembled, as the height of impertinence, and I trust the resolution which has been presented will be adopted by this Commission [illegible].

Mr. Aiken—Before the Commission decides upon the question [illegible] General. If [illegible] it is proper to say that I was not aware of the fact that because a person had borne arms against the Government it would disqualify and render him incompetent as a witness. [illegible] I do not of course have [illegible] insult in including General [illegible] as a witness. It will also be recollected that [illegible] who has borne arms against the Government was introduced here by the Judge Advocate without objection of any member of the Court.

General Kautz—Does this person appear here as a [volun]teer witness?

Mr. Aiken—He does not.

The Judge Advocate General—I feel bound to say that as a rule of law before a witness can be [illegible] as to become absolutely incompetent to testify he must be convicted by [illegible] and the record of that proceeding [illegible] as the basis of his incompetency [illegible] any evidence of [illegible] only applies to his credibility. This Court can discredit him so far as they please upon that ground, but I do not think the law would authorize the Court to declare the witness incompetent [illegible] to [illegible] his credibility.

General Lew Wallace—I [illegible] for the sake of the character [illegible] for the [illegible] that of the person [illegible] as a witness [illegible] the officer making this motion would withdraw it.

General Howe—Upon the statement of the Judge Advocate General that this person is not technically an incompetent witness, I withdraw the motion.

Examination by Mr. Aiken—Q. State your present status—a prisoner of war? A. I am a United States prisoner of war captured at Nashville, now confined at Fort Warren, Boston Harbor.

Q. Were you not an officer in the so-called Confederate service, and if so, of what rank? A. I was an officer of [the] rank of Brigadier General in the Confederate States army in the year 1863 up to the date of my capture.

Q. Did you not [hold] a higher rank than that? A. I did.

Q. Are you acquainted with Henry Von Steinacker? A. I am acquainted with a man who went by that name, who represented himself to me as Henry Von Steinacker.

Q. Was he a member of your Staff? A. He was not.

Q. Did he rank as an engineer officer or receive pay as such? A. He did not rank as an officer, either as an engineer, staff or line officer; he was a private.

Q. In what regiment and company did he belong? A. He belonged to the Stonewall Brigade, Second Virginia Infantry, I think. I am not positive upon that point, and I do not remember the company.

Q. Was the Second Virginia Infantry attached to your division? A. It was a part of the Stonewall Brigade, and that was one of the brigades of my division.

Q. Please state to the Court how, which and under what circumstances Von Steinacker presented himself to you? A. In the month of May, 1863, a man accosted me in Richmond on Capitol Square by my name and the rank which I bore in the United States army as Major Johnson; he told me he had served under me.

Judge Bingham—What has that to do with it? there has been no inquiry made as to his service under you.

Witness—Well he met me in Richmond and applied for a position in the Engineer Corps, stating that he had served under me previously; that he was a Prussian by birth and an engineer by education, and would like to get into the Engineer Corps in our service.

Judge Bingham—You need not tell what he said.

Witness—He applied to get into our service. I had no such position to give and declined giving it, and he left me; he called again and made a second application for the position; I told him I could not give it to him. I was then ordered off to Fredericksburg; in about a week the man appeared there and again made application for a position either in the Engineer Corps or on my staff. I told him I could not give him a position in either, but that if he would enlist as a private, from his representation of himself as an engineer and a draughtsman, I would put him on duty in the Engineer Corps as a private; on these conditions he enlisted as a private in the Stonewall Brigade, Second Regiment Virginia Infantry, and I assigned him to special duty at headquarters; he was to act as draughtsman and assist my engineer officer, and he so continued to act until I was told he had left.

Q.—Was he subject to Court-martial at that time?

[Question objected to by Judge Bingham on the ground that the records of the Court must be produced and he did not think there were any Courts down in Virginia in those days that could try at all. Aiken stated that as under the circumstances the records of the Court could not be produced parole evidence could be admitted. He presumed the question was not seriously objected to. Objection sustained by the Court.]

Q.—Where in Virginia was your encampment after the battle of Gettysburg? A.—Near Orange Court House, Orange county, Va.

Q.—Do you know or not, of a meeting of the officers of that brigade at the camp of the Second Virginia Regiment? A.—I know nothing of it, and never heard anything of the kind.

Q.—Did you ever learn of the fact that a secret meeting was held there at that time? A.—I never heard of any such secret meeting.

Q. Did you ever, at any meeting of the officers of your division, hear plans discussed for the assassination of the President of the United States? A.—I have never heard of any plans discussed in any meeting of the officers, nor did I ever hear the assassination alluded to by any individual in my division as an object to be desired.

Q.—Are you acquainted with J. Wilkes Booth, the actor? A.—I am not; I never saw him.

Q.—Look at that picture of Booth, and see if you ever saw the man? A.—Never to my knowledge; I did not know in fact that there was such a man at all until after the assassination of President Lincoln.

Q.—Have you a personal knowledge of the fact of Lieutenant David Cockerill losing a horse?

Judge Bingham—I object; we do not propose to try the question of horse stealing; it is not in this issue.

Aiken—The charge was made in the paper presented that Von Steinacker had been guilty of horse stealing, and I understood we were permitted to prove my allegation in that paper.

Colonel Burnett—Anything that is legitimate and competent to be proved. We do not go further.

[The objection was sustained by the Court.]

Q.—Did you ever learn anything while at the South of a secret association by the name of the Knights of the Golden Circle or the Sons of Liberty? A. I never belonged to any such association myself, never knew any persons reported to belong to them and never knew anything of them.

Q. While in Richmond have you heard it freely spoken of in the street and among our acquaintances that the assassination of the President of the United States was a desirable result to be accomplished? A.—I never heard it spoken of as a desirable object to be accomplished; in fact, as I said before, I never heard any officer or person allude to the assassination of the President as desirable, to the best of my recollection.

Q.—Was Von Steinacker a member of General Blenker's Staff? A.—Not that I know of; he stated to me that he was.

Q.—Did he state to you that he was a deserter from our service? A.—He stated to me that he had deserted or attempted to desert and was apprehended.

Cross-examined by Judge Bingham—Q. Have you ever been in the service of the United States? A. I have.

Q. Were you educated in the United States Military Academy? A. Yes, sir.

Q.—How long have you been in the army of the United States? A.—I graduated in 1838.

Q.—And had been in the army down to the breaking out of the rebellion? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What was your rank in the army at that time? A.—Captain and Brevet Major of the Sixth United States Infantry.

Q.—State how you got out of the service of the United States? A. I tendered my resignation, which was accepted.

Q.—Tendered it to whom? A.—To the Adjutant General of the United States on May 1st; it was not accepted for three or four weeks; I received the acceptance of my resignation in June following.

Q.—Did you then enter the rebel service? A.—I went to my home in Virginia, where I remained a few weeks; I then entered the Confederate States service, and have been in it ever since.

Q.—What was the final rank held by you in the Confederate service? A. Major General.

Q. Were you a Major General in 1863? A.—I was in fact [illegible]. I think my rank as Major General commenced in February of that year.

WASHINGTON, May 31st.—Hartman Richter, a cousin of Atzerodt, testified that the prisoner came to his house in Montgomery county (Md.) on the Sunday after the assassination of the President, and remained there until Thursday morning.

Doctor [illegible] for Atzerodt stated that he intended to set up the plea of insanity, and for this purpose had summoned relatives and friends of Atzerodt living thousands of miles away, who have not yet arrived.

William S. Arnold testified as to his brother's whereabouts in Baltimore city and county from the 1st of April, when the prisoner went to Fortress Monroe, [illegible] the witness the pistol and knife.

Frank Arnold, also a brother to the prisoner, testified that the latter went to Fortress Monroe to enter upon employment.

John T. Ford, proprietor of the theater, was called to the stand, and was asked by the defense whether he [illegible] applied to him [illegible] Chester the actor.

Assistant Judge Advocate Bingham objected to the question.

[Ewing] contended that the question was pertinent. Arnold had made a voluntary confession that there was a plan to capture the President, which Chester in his testimony corroborated. The object in propounding this interrogatory was to show that [Booth] had nobody in the theater to assist him. An answer to the question was important in justice to Spangler.

Assistant Judge Advocate Bingham said this was not a question of relevancy, and therefore it was absolutely unnecessary to ask it.

The Court sustained the Assistant Judge Advocate's objection.

John T. Ford [illegible] of the theater [illegible] called. He was shown the rope found in Spangler's carpet-bag, and [illegible] used [illegible] purposes. The witness was in Richmond when the assassination occurred. He also testified that [illegible] the [illegible] the throat. He knew the President [illegible] that the [illegible] half past eight o'clock on the [illegible] he did not tell [illegible] that the seats had been engaged.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street, Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the security of the Lillie Lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock [illegible] will not allow yourself [illegible] such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe Locks after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

Respectfully, etc.,

A. P. TILTON,
W. S. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble Rigger

OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

GLOUCESTER, March 20, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND, Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie I was induced to purchase [illegible] Lillie [illegible]

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "Safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we attended McKenzie & Hardy['s] opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make), and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible materials in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc.—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the cloth[ing] business and but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire[,] faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servants,

(Signed.) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

TILTON & M'FARLAND'S SAFE,

The Only Protection

Against Fire and Burglars.

For the last Fifteen Years

This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our Safes by means of Burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

No Man ever Lost a Dollar

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

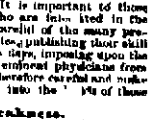
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Paddington; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton, of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies; see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the [hands] of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252. Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney st. (near Commercial), San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen and be too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability [illegible] that he professes to [illegible]. Consultations FREE. [illegible]
